Optery

YOUR PERSONAL PRIVACY

Your information is online. You have options.

Data brokers and people-search websites may publish your name, address, phone number, past locations and more. Our partnership with Optery helps you find that exposure and choose what to do next.

Personal Data Monitoring

Exposure reports + self-service removal guidance

- See where your information is publicly exposed.
- Review your reports and monitoring updates.
- Use instructions to request removal yourself.

Automated removals are NOT included. They require a separate paid plan.

How to get started

1 Activate your account

Watch for your Optery email invitation. It typically expires after about 14 days.

2 Complete your profile

Add your names, past addresses and contact details for more accurate matches.

3 Review your results

Use the self-service steps or explore optional paid removal plans.
